Transforming Lives & Communities

Mothers - Some Christian Thoughts

Honour Your Father and Mother - we are taught to love our parents, and specifically to honour them. Keeping that love and to the front, not only "loves" them but builds our own character and leaves our own families with a good example and a strong foundation.

Where our natural family has been less than perfect (which is pretty normal) we have a new family in the Christian family - our brothers and sisters in Christ - to nurture and to strengthen us. A new place of belonging, love and purpose.

Our faith can help heal the family line when family life has left us with trauma. Sometimes generations of abuse of various kinds can be healed, not just in the present but for future generations as well.

Mothers never switch off - the mothering gene never ceases, they always have your back. Mothering is a worthy calling and we Appreciate our Mums!
